REPORT OF THE MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE

Gentlemen,

The Twentieth Annual Report and Financial Statement of the University of New South Wales Cricket Club is presented for your approval.

There were five teams representing the Club in 1969-70, one in each of the "A" and "B" Municipal and Shires Competition, two in the "C" Shires Competition, and a fifth eleven played in City and Suburban fixtures. The past season marked the end of an era for the Club - the first season since 1963-64 that the Club did not win a Premiership or the Club Championship. We part with the Club Championship Trophy after winning it for five seasons in succession. Congratulations to Lane Cove Club on their victory. As was the case in 1968-69, the "A" Shires team were Minor Premiers only to be beaten in the Final, this time by Wentworthville-Blacktown Club. Congratulations to Wentworthville on their success in their first season in "A" Shires. The "B" Shires team finished in fifth position for the second successive season. The depth of the Club was emphasised by the results of the two "C" Shires teams. The "C1" Shires team finished third, after missing a place in the Final on percentages, and the "C2" Shires team finished in fourth position in the same competition. Although the fifth eleven did not record many wins in the City and Suburban fixtures the overall standard of play and approach to the game was a credit to the Club.

The highlight of the Intervarsity programme was the Carnival held in Brisbane during February. Only one win in three matches was recorded by the Club, the two losses being to the eventual finalists. Matches were also played against Newcastle Western Australia and Flinders Universities, with the opponent being victorious in each case. Unavailability of several of the eligible higher grade players was probably the major factor contributing to the Club's rather poor showing in Intervarsity. However, players new to Intervarsity competition gained valuable experience and the benefit of this experience should be evident next season.

A game was also played against Combined New Zealand Universities who proved too strong for the "Wales Eleven". Congratulations to Jim Pratley and David Wills on their selection in the Combined Australian Universities side which played a "test" against New Zealand Universities at Newcastle. Jim Pratley captained the Australian side.

Social matches were played against Randwick, Burwood, Wollongong University College, Duntroon Military College and the "World XI". A single-wicket competition was held towards the end of the season and was won by David Wills.

The Club was fortunate to have the services of Mr Wilf Ewens, from Cumberland Club, during the season in the capacity of "Honorary Coach". Mr Ewens attended many of the mid-week practice sessions and his advice and comments were greatly appreciated by those Members present on these occasions. The Committee is grateful to Mr Ewens for his interest in the Club and for the valuable assistance given to the Members.

The Annual Dinner, held on 2nd June, was an outstanding success. Members present were entertained by Mr Peter Philpot who proposed the "Toast to Cricket", and Mr David de Carvalho who responded to the toast. Rev. Stan Eldred of Epping Club proposed the "Toast to the Club" to which Mr Tim Creer replied. In the absence of our Patron, Mr E.H. Davis, the Bursar's Trophy for the most successful allrounder was presented to Geoff Garland by the Vice-Chancellor, Prof. R.H. Myers. Capt. John Morris presented his personal trophy for fielding to Roger Robertson. The Bar-Turn Trophy, presented by Club Member Clem Barrington and Bob Turner, was this year awarded to Geoff Garland as the Club's Actor for 1969-70. In all, fifty-seven people attended the Dinner.

Members should be pleased with the improvement in the financial situation during the season. The untiring efforts of the Committee and the support of the Members were the principal factors in bringing about this improvement. However, it was unfortunate that not all Committee Members shared the same enthusiasm and cooperation shown by others. Attendances at Committee Meetings were often disappointing, and on more than one occasion matters of considerable importance were decided with several Committee Members absent.

Finally, the Management Committee wishes to thank all those who gave both moral and material support to the Club.

For and on behalf of the Management Committee,

C.H. BARRINGTON - President

J.R. WEGNER - Hon. Secretary

FIRST ELEVEN REPORT

For the second successive year the University of N.S.W. First XI became Minor Premiers only to be beaten in the Final. Our congratulations go to Wentworthville Club, in its first season in 'A' Shires, on its victory in that game.

The batting over the season surprisingly lacked depth, considering its strength on paper. Fine performances were recorded by Darryl Smith and Barry Andrews with over 500 runs apiece and David Wills with 477 runs. These three together scored over half the team's runs for the season. Unfortunately Barry and Darryl ran out of runs towards the end of the competition and the lack of in-form batsmen was no more pronounced than in the Final. Roger Robertson played some good innings while Hugh Hopkins looks "poised" to make his mark in the top grade.

The bowling was a strong point in the team's performances. The attack was led by Geoff Garland who climaxed a great personal season of 63 wickets with an outstanding 7 for 27 in the Final. John Middleton and Greig Robinson proved to be a very capable opening attack with John producing on occasions an effort for which he is renowned.

I would like to thank John Middleton for his advice and assistance as Vice-Captain and the team as a whole for their support during the season.

JIM PRATLEY

SECOND ELEVEN REPORT

The B's finished high up on the premiership table and had the distinction of beating the eventual Premiers, Lane Cove, twice. However, the season was disappointing with more bad cricket played by the team than good. Bad cricket is poor performance due not to lack of ability but lack of dedication, application, concentration, common sense and even, at times, guts. Our failure to perform as well as hoped for could be summarised as being because the team's:-

* fielding was usually terrible; at times count was lost of the number of catches dropped in one afternoon; the ground fielding gave the impression we were playing on freshly-ploughed rice-growing swamps and the throwing was invariably good from the boundary after a hit for four had been retrieved.

* batting, until the last few games, lacked any authority or sensibly aggressive intent; under pressure, such as against Wentworthville, despair was complete.

* slow bowling failed to get wickets or contain opposing batsmen; this was probably the most significant difference in the team's efforts compared with the premiership wins of recent seasons.

Other disquieting features included consistent lateness by a number of players. Even those responsible for bringing the kit were late on more than one occasion. The distressing thing here was the absence of any apologies from latecomers. If a catch goes through the necessarily vacant third slip position in those first few overs the latecomers are letting the team and the Club down. And they are letting the game of cricket down.

There were, however, a number of good team performances. Against Lane Cove early in the season, after Uni. had only made 171 at Longueville, the fieldsmen, for once, supported the bowlers in dismissing them for 136. In an all day game, Epping had beaten us on the first innings. Phil Heaney, taking 8-28, bowled them out in an hour for 72 and then requiring 98 to win off 12 overs we failed by only 7 runs. The second win against Lane Cove was memorable. Chasing 248, we slumped from 2-142 to 9-201. Phil Heaney, with Bob Turner, put on 79 for the last wicket. The batting against Canterbury in the last game of the season was probably the most powerful performance by the B's for years. We made 4-326 and at one stage were 2-294. Hugh Hopkins made a grand century and Jock Martel made 69 not out in half an hour with 9 fours and 3 sixes.

We were very much in the premiership race when we played Wentworthville. Our first innings debacle of 57 could be excused by the wet wicket and good bowling. The second innings effort for the supreme tally of 50 had no such mitigations. Blatant abdication describes most of the batting efforts. The next game was against Ryde and who can remember when they last beat us? They made 213 on the first day. We counted 14 dropped catches up to shortly after tea and then gave up (in more ways than one). In between Saturdays half the team went to Brisbane for Intervarsity. The batting on the second day by most of the IV representatives indicated that a mixture of LSD, heroin and shredded copies of Tharunka had been added to the Brisbane beer.

Phil Heaney was the star performer in the team. In his first season with the Club, he showed the potential of being a very good cricketer. He was the most successful bowler combining fitness and intelligence with a real killer attitude. He also played some fine innings including the 73 at Lane Cove in the game mentioned above where he showed great temperament in the crisis. He will score a lot of runs with a little more discretion.

Hugh Hopkins was the leading batsman. He hit the ball hard and often, and it was noticeable that our most dismal batting efforts came when Hugh was in the A's. His only technical fault was that he played across the line too much but if he holds that cover drive in reserve in the early overs he should score many runs.

Ray Bayfield was pipped for the bowling average by a whisker. As always, he set an example for younger players in everything he did on the field. His 7-52 against Burwood was great bowling. Remember the way he swung one around the legs of Tom Mobbs and then skittled Graham Corderoy next ball with one just as good.

Clem Barrington does not have the physical prowess of some people. Like Ray Bayfield, however, Clem plays cricket to the utmost of his ability all the time. Clem's keeping was especially praiseworthy when it is realised he was carrying a painful injury about which he kept very quiet.

Alan Ridley was a much improved batsman and fieldsman. He is also not as athletic as some but concentrates well and is always trying.

Graeme Cole had, for him, a dismal season. He bowled well at times but more often showed the need for the practice he didn't get. He usually looked good when batting but kept getting out just when he looked set. Even his fielding was well below his usual high standard.

Bob Turner bowled less successfully than in previous seasons. Perhaps more catches than usual were dropped off him but at times one wished for more variety in his bowling.

If Jock Martel and Peter Whalan had played the whole season the team would have gone a lot closer to success. Their batting in the last few games contributed considerably to the wins and rubbed off on the others.

THIRD ELEVEN REPORT

It was an exciting and disappointing season. From whatever aspect it may be viewed, it was a season of contrasts. Whereas by mid-season we were undefeated and were regarded by many of the opposition teams as certain finalists, if not premiers, successive defeats in Rounds 10 and 11 cost us the lead which we did not regain. To maintain our chance of being a finalist, it was necessary to achieve, in the last round, an outright win against Macquarie University, a not inconsiderable task. This outright win was easily obtained before tea on the second day, but gained us only equal second place with Canterbury, 2 points behind Lane Cove. On the countback, Canterbury had a better percentage and so, although we had started with probably the best team in the competition, we did not play in the final, a disappointing result. Perhaps the contrast is most clearly seen in the records broken during the season. Of the 9 team records, 4 were broken, but a fifth, the lowest score, was averted by only 2 runs, and yet 3 new partnership records were established.

The season started in a spectacular fashion in the very first round with Tony Bailey and Jim Dormon setting a new first wicket record of 148 in 95 minutes. This aggressive and confident approach was to be the key to the successes in the early rounds, such as the outright win against Auburn in one afternoon in Round 4, Jim Dormon and John Phipps scoring an undefeated opening partnership of 127 in 80 minutes. However, by mid-season the usual loss of regular players to examinations, vacations, higher grades etc., had begun to take its toll, and although the replacements performed admirably, the momentum of the early season could not be maintained, and the middle order batting often demonstrated a somewhat brittle character. Although collectively the batting may have shown this fragility in mid-season, every recognised batsman produced at least one fine performance just when it was needed - with the very notable exception of the Lindfield match but, even there, Ian Duncan singlehandedly saved the innings from being an even worse debacle. Despite there being no centuries scored, there were no less than 12 50's scored: Henry Enahoro (79, 54, 51); Tony Bailey (78); Chris Relton (67, 53); Jim Dormon (63, 59*); John Phipps (58*); Tim Creer (52*); Max Bishop (51); Leigh French (50). Clearly the outstanding performance of the season was Henry Enahoro's 99 against Canterbury, when he and John Owen, beautifully playing the sheet anchor role, established a new 9th wicket partnership of 111, and came within a hair's breadth of saving the match, after the 8th wicket had fallen at 141, 119 runs short of Canterbury's total. Of the other batsmen who did not score a 50, Ian Duncan, Lloyd Ferreira, Steve Gibbs, John Owen and Alan Thomas all contributed fine innings at various times, often sacrificing their wickets, and averages, in going for quick runs.

The bowling was consistently good throughout the whole season, George Preston, Dick Preiss and Phil Schofield each taking more than 30 wickets, with Schofield establishing a new record of 57 wickets. In the early season, George Preston and Dick Preiss provided a formidable opening attack, George swinging the ball further and more accurately than any opposing batsman had ever previously encountered and Dick, given the conditions, bowling the occasional rearing bouncer. On George's return to the country his replacement, John Owen, then obtained, in his first match the best performance of the season (7-15) and subsequently showed a fine all-round ability. Always backing up the opening attack was a reassuringly efficient spin trio of Gibbs, Relton and Schofield who, collectively, accounted for some 80 odd position wickets.

Although it certainly did not appear so at times, the fielding was resumably no worse than in previous seasons, and if statistics alone are an index, then it was presumably considerably better. Dick Priess set a new record of 15 catches, and Lloyd Ferreira, called upon early in the season to act as a substitute wicketkeeper, grasped the opportunity so competently that he established himself as the permanent wicketkeeper and proceeded to set a new record of 16 catches and stumping.

What then of the past season and the prospects for the coming season? It is patently clear that there will be continued strong opposition from clubs such as Lane Cove and Canterbury who are pursuing a policy of using their third XI to load their young players under the guidance of several older, very experienced players. Our own third XI has, overall, continued to increase its stature, but if it is to be successful in the coming seasons, minimally the standard of last season's team must be maintained, and preferably increased. In terms of team members, this may mean a rearrangement and rethinking of traditional or current attitudes, as several of the new, or relatively new, players such as Owen, Enahoro, Gibbs and French, have the potential to play in the higher grades. It may also require a general reconsideration of team composition with respect to tactical aspects; one of the prime reasons for the early season success was an ability to score fast; two of the prime reasons for the subsequent mid-season slumps was an inability of middle order batsmen to maintain concentration and to thus cope intelligently with accurate off-spin bowling, and the lack of sensible thumpers. It often appears that we lack the particular variety of long-toothed opposition batsman so capable of carving up an inexperienced attack.

All told, it was an exhilarating, albeit ultimately disappointing, season and one from which I'm sure every member will, in the future, recall at least one personal anecdote, be it a catch grasped unexpectedly while asleep or a morally devastating duck.

P.J. Schofield.

FOURTH ELEVEN REPORT

One of the main problems confronting the selection of the Third and Fourth grade teams during the past three seasons, has been the inability, continually, to field a stable well-balanced side, and this season (although the usual difficulties were encountered) for the main, we were able to field a nucleus in each side.

The Fourth XI was soon to show the benefit of this selection by having its best season since entering 'C' Shires. The batting, which is usually a weak point, became the reverse, with some outstanding individual performances; two that deserve special mention were, the 121 not out by Lee French against Epping 2, and the powerhouse 113 by Alan Thomas against Wentworthville.

There were only two occasions during the season when the batting was found wanting; one was against Lindfield (and the less said about this performance the better). The second occasion was the disappointing performance against Canterbury, when, on dismissing Canterbury for 105, after a very good bowling effort by Peter Street, who took 5/30 off 17 overs, we could only manage a very poor 78. A win in this game would have put us in third place.

The bowling of the team throughout the season was of a very high standard - and I feel sure that Captains of the Fourth grade in previous seasons must have looked in envy at our opening attack - TWO fast bowlers! The most successful bowler was George Erdos who finished the season with 36 wickets at an average of 13.38 including performances of 6/36 against Lane Cove and 7/28 against Burwood.

Although the fielding of the team is usually the focus of much merriment at the Regent on Saturdays, and a wailing wall for Tony Epstein, this season was a pleasant surprise, as catches were taken; two occasions that come to mind are, the two catches taken by Stan Livingstone against Pennant Hills, and the breathtaking effort at silly mid-off by Peter James - again against Pennant Hills. With efforts such as these, I can understand why there seems to be a high mortality rate among Fourth XI Captains.

All in all, the season proved very successful, not only from the results achieved, but because of the way everyone enjoyed their cricket and I wish to thank not only every member of the team for their support, but also the players who passed through on their way to better things, the Fifth graders who gave their wholehearted support, particularly in the match against Auburn, and to Stan Livingstone for his help and steadying influence, without which, who knows what decisions would have been made.

FIFTH ELEVEN REPORT

Although the Fifths only managed to win two games during the season (and both against Macquarie Uni.), we came dangerously close to winning on several other occasions. Time, and sometimes lack of players, often beat us. It was not until the last game of the season that the side collapsed completely to be dismissed for 18 (8 men). The fact that we played next to a licensed bowling club was a good reason to finish early and no-one appeared terribly upset at the result. One of the most enjoyable games of the season was against Sydney Judeans who made the game by declaring as soon as they passed our first innings score. Our second attempt showed a marked improvement and we were able to set the opposition a target of 85 runs in 8 overs for outright victory. This they achieved in the last over with the clock showing well after 6.30 p.m..

Overall, the team performed consistently, but it was our batting which let us down most. On occasions, the batting was very good, although a little slow, but there was usually a collapse somewhere along the line from which we could never recover. Apart from Lee Ffrench and Graeme McRae, who quickly found themselves in higher grades, runs were scored mainly by Doug Carlson and Phil Dobell-Brown, with Dick Young sometimes hitting up a score lower down the list. Phil Allen at times looked set for a good score, but usually managed to get out just after reaching double figures.

Bowling was quite a strong point, with Dave Stockley and Ken Schofield the main wicket takers. Phil Allen, Peter Nicholls and Dick Young were sometimes a little unlucky with the ball, while Ian Winter proved a useful bowler from time to time.

The team set a high standard in the field throughout the season. Ground fielding and returns to the wicket were generally good, and according to reports were probably equal to some of the higher grade performances. Although the inevitable catch was dropped, some of the catches taken were truly remarkable efforts. Those that spring to mind are Ian Townsend's "head-protector" at square-leg, Ian Winter's acrobatic efforts against Waverley, and Phil Dobell-Brown's "steal" at backward point.

Despite the usual shortage of players around Christmas time and again towards the end of the season, there was always a solid core who enjoyed their Saturday afternoons in the sunshine and who turned up week after week to face another foe. It was a pleasure to lead these fellows on to the field knowing that it was the way the game was played, not the result, that counted most.

Finally, my thanks to all 44 players who appeared under the Fifths' banner during the season, especially to Vice-Captain Dave Stockley, without whose comments and criticism, who knows when he would have had a bowl!

UNIVERSITY OF NEW SOUTH WALES v NEWCASTLE UNIVERSITY

Played 7th-9th December, at Newcastle.

After a quiet, although not uneventful evening, and some well-cooked sausages, we motored to Newcastle on a sunny Sunday morning with the intention of proving that our victory in Sydney the year before could be repeated. Unfortunately this was not to be.

Newcastle won the toss and elected to bat on what turned out to be a beautiful batting wicket. Old rivals Hanley and Tarbox put on 84 before lunch, and then took their partnership to 109 before Robinson had Tarbox caught for 55. Hanley followed soon afterwards for 53, and Newcastle were 2-114. The score mounted steadily in the afternoon session due mainly to a fine innings by Dodd, who hit 13 boundaries in his 77. However, we were still in it with the score at 6-224 just after tea. East and Cornelius then became associated in a seventh wicket stand of 63 and the U.N.S.W. team began to show the effect of a long day in the field. The innings finally closed on the last ball of the day, bowled by a very tired Robinson, after a partnership of 41 for the last wicket by Melville and Craig. Wickets were shared by all the bowlers, Robinson (4-105) and Heaney (2-61) being the most successful.

Following advice from the skipper, the team exercised great restraint at the barbecue held that evening, and all had a fairly sober and early night.

Disaster struck at the end of the first over the next day when Smith, batting in a rare state of sobriety, flashed at a ball outside the off stump and paid the penalty. Hopkins joined McEachran, and this pair added 50 in even time. We were back in the game - so we thought! Mc Eachran, Horwitz and Hopkins left in quick succession, and the score reeled to 4-70. Of the batsmen who followed, only Ridley and Heaney managed to reach double figures, and the innings came to a painful close at 110 after 220 minutes, the last 60 taking just under three hours. All the Newcastle bowlers gained scalps, the best being Davidson (4-44) and Embleton (2-23). Davidson's last 9 overs in the 22 he bowled cost only 5 runs. At one stage, with Embleton operating at the other end, there were 5 consecutive maiden overs bowled.

The early part of our second innings was remarkably similar to the first innings. This time McEachran went cheaply, then Smith and Hopkins added 62 for the second wicket. Just before stumps Hopkins, who had a fine double with scores of 40 and 45, was talked into abdicating, and the overnight score of 3-75 left everyone (except Newcastle) in gloom.

Fortunately this gloom did not spread into the evening's activities, and after an enjoyable buffet at South Newcastle League's Club, the two teams were entertained by Ridley's now-famous fan-dance. A match race through the streets of Newcastle between Ridley and Thomas followed, and this had to be seen to be believed! "Fidel" won comfortably, and a search party was organised to look for Ridley, who had to be carried home. A blood-curdling scream in the early hours of the morning announced the arrival back at the hotel of a certain opening batsman and a rather tall opening bowler who had been startled by the neighbourhood sheep - or was it a goat?

Back to the cricket! The third day saw a great fight back by U.N.S.W. in an attempt to avoid an innings defeat. Unable to lift his head, Ridley compiled a patient 42 which included 7 fours (running was a little difficult for him) and with Heaney he added 97 runs for the fourth wicket. The lunch score was 4-172. Heaney was dismissed shortly after lunch after a delightful and at times spectacular innings of 62 (10 fours). Horwitz and Thomas each contributed 20, but the innings ended just before tea with the total at 239. Craig, Davidson and Melville each took three wickets.

Dodd faced Ridley in Newcastle's second innings. Three balls were required before the necessary three runs were scored, but in this short space of time Dodd, trying to lose the ball in the pavilion, was dropped twice by a red-headed fieldsman who shall remain nameless.

Congratulations to Newcastle on their well-deserved victory, and our thanks to the hosts for their wonderful and generous hospitality during our short stay.

UNIVERSITY OF N.S.W. v UNIVERSITY OF W.A.

Played 26th - 27th January, on the Campus Oval.

After W.A. had won the toss and sent the home side in to bat, play was washed out on the first day at lunch and the game was reduced to virtually a one-day affair. After being 3 for 5, Smith and Heaney were still together at the interruption with the score at 72. When play was resumed the next day, U.N.S.W. was immediately in trouble at 5 for 73, but a partnership of 61 between Smith and Pratley led to a declaration at the respectable score of 8 for 161. Smith with a patient 55, Pratley (53) and Heaney (30) were the only batsmen to show any form. The visitors were set a task of slightly less than a run-a-minute.

In a very exciting finish, the visitors ran out victors with the loss of four wickets after play was continued through heavy rain. The victory was due mainly to the wonderful innings of 52 not out by Tony Irvine, backed up by Marshall (41) and Nicholls (34). A greasy ball hampered the home bowlers who stuck to their task well.

In a word - exciting!

UNIVERSITY OF N.S.W. v NEW ZEALAND UNIVERSITIES

Played 5th - 6th February, 1970 on the Campus Oval

After having beaten the N.Z. Universities team on its previous visit the home side had a reputation to uphold. Unfortunately the task proved beyond the team, particularly in the batting.

U.N.S.W. were sent in to bat on an easy pitch and at 2 for 60 a reasonable start had been attained. However, the remaining batsmen were unable to consolidate and the team totalled only 115, the last four falling without addition. David Wills carried the batting with 49, and justified his selection in the Australian Universities XI. Alex Taylor provided assistance with 25. Chris Kirk bowled accurately with an analysis of 8 for 29 from 13 overs. He was, however, aided by poor batting.

New Zealand replied with 219 with Ian Walters (51) and Murray Parker (34) having a 77-run opening stand. Chris Kirk scored 48 runs. Phil McEachran bowled well for his 3 for 21 from 11 overs whilst Jim Pratley took 4 for 53 from 17 overs.

The batting performance of U.N.S.W. players in the second innings was even worse than it was in the first. In a deplorable display on an easy pitch, the team could only muster 90 runs. Kirk again performed, taking 4 for 35.

The New Zealand team played well, but it was a thoroughly disappointing display from the "Wales".

UNIVERSITY OF N.S.W. v FLINDERS UNIVERSITY

10th - 11th February, 1970.

University of New South Wales won the toss and elected to bat on a damp wicket which, on appearance, seemed quite docile. The wicket's appearance, however, did not bely its nature and it proved to be rather spiteful, and this, together with some extremely poor batting, saw N.S.W. collapse for 83. Only Tony Bailey who batted exceptionally well for 34, and Greg Robinson who compiled 17 (a number of his shots being reminiscent of Jack Iverson at his very best) offered any resistance.

In reply, Flinders totalled 248 due to determined batting by Al Douglas and Chris John. This total could have been much less but we missed a number of chances, all of which proved expensive.

Facing a deficit of 165 runs, we collapsed again, this time on a perfect strip and finished up losing by an innings and 26 runs. In our total of 136, Phil Heaney showed some fine on side shots in scoring 35, whilst Darryl Smith and Tony Bailey both batted solidly.

In conclusion, all honours to Flinders University who outplayed us in every department of the game.

Flinders University defeated University of New South Wales by an innings and 28 runs.

QUEENSLAND IV CRICKET CARNIVAL.

16th - 19th FEBRUARY 1970. at ST. LUCIA, BRISBANE.

This was the first time such a number of Australian University Cricket Teams had gathered in one city for an official carnival. Eight teams took part from the following universities.

1. U.N.S.W. 2. Sydney. 3. Melbourne. 4. La Trobe.
5. Flinders. 6. Queensland. 7. Macquarie. 8. Newcastle.

In order to get a decision in one day the cricket was played under the V. & G. 40 overs per innings rules. It was impossible to play every team, however each team played three others.

MONDAY. 16th FEBRUARY.

UNIVERSITY OF N.S.W. vs. MELBOURNE UNIVERSITY.

U.N.S.W. won the toss and sent Melbourne into bat on a wicket with "something for the quickies". The N.S.W. bowlers did well to restrict Melbourne to a score of 4-91, but a solid partnership of 76 between Dunne and Jameson consolidated Melbourne's start. Each of these and the remaining Melbourne batsman flung the bat at the ball in a lusty manner and after 40 overs Melbourne were 7-197.

The N.S.W. innings started badly. Both openers were dismissed with the score only 26. However, after a fighting partnership between Harvey and Heaney the score recovered to a sound 3-92. Then disaster struck. Harvey was out and the rest of the team followed in quick succession to be all out for 126.

Of the bowlers McCrist performed best for Melbourne while Emery and Tonkin shared 5 of the 7 wickets for N.S.W. Frank Graham and Greg Robinson bowled steadily. Harvey (37) and Heaney (26) were best of the batsmen for N.S.W. while L'Huillier (35), Dunne (41) and Jameson (38) were Melbourne's best.

17th FEBRUARY.

U.N.S.W. vs. SYDNEY UNIVERSITY AT ST. LUCIA No. 1.

Again N.S.W. won the toss and batted in sweltering heat. After a slow but solid opening partnership of 63, the following batsmen failed to consolidate. Apart from Smith (47) and McEachran (20) only Heaney (21) contributed significantly to the final total of 140. Pike was probably the most impressive of the Sydney bowlers who kept well to their task in the conditions.

Sydney then batted and passed the U.N.S.W. score with one wicket down. Lee (79 N.O.), Martin (30), and Rogers (20 N.O.) demoralized the N.S.W. attack.

18th FEBRUARY, 1970.
U.N.S.W. vs. LA TROBE UNIVERSITY.

Phil McEachran again won the toss and batted, and once again N.S.W. collapsed. After a reasonable start (3-83) N.S.W. were all out for 133. Seven of the batsmen reached double figures but none continued to a sizeable score. The wickets were shared evenly among the La Trobe bowlers.

The opposition's innings turned out to be the most exciting and interesting of the carnival from the N.S.W. point of view. After the loss of one early wicket Pemberton and Mellor took the La Trobe score to an apparently safe 1-75. Then Tonkin and Graham between them took 3 wickets for 1 run to make La Trobe 4-76. The batsmen then took the score to 91 when Pemberton was dismissed for a solid, fighting 56 runs.

Could we win from here? Davis then pulled a ball off Tonkin toward the mid wicket boundary. A further 6 or 4 runs was imminent. Then however Alan Lindsay, running with the speed of a gazelle from the direction of square leg judged the catch superbly and plucked the ball from the air almost apologetically - a brilliant catch, (6-102).

Frank Graham then polished the innings off for 112.

Notable performances were Ridley's 28, (for once he was not run out), Graham's 5-34 and Tonkin's 3-16, while McEachran and Emery between them bowled 16 overs for 24 runs.

Pemberton (56), Mellor (28), Field (2-14) and Gannon (3-12) were La Trobe's best performers.

THURSDAY, 19th FEBRUARY 1970.

The team watched Sydney University win a particularly exciting match at the 'Gabba against Melbourne University.

GENERAL COMMENTS.

While one win out of three matches is not a great record the teams to whom we lost contested the final and so the team can take consolation in this.

In general the batting was inconsistent and collapsed when consolidation was required. The bowling was very steady but lacked variety. The need for a competent slow bowler was apparent. The fact that only a few players performed as well as they have shown they can added to our problems.

Nevertheless, performances at team meetings were most laudable. A general high level was attained, especially by Smith and Robinson, whilst Dennis Lynch threw particularly well throughout the carnival.

The team congratulates Sydney University for their fine win and also David Field of La Trobe who won the individual best performance trophy.

SOCIAL MATCHES

U.N.S.W.C.C. v RANDWICK D.C.C.

(Village Green 21-9-69)

University again entertained Randwick in a pre-season game at the Village Green. Though the scores and statistics tell the story, random impressions are better remembered. Phil Heaney got Cripps l.b.w. early to take his first wicket for the Club. Turner (Alan, not Bob) thrashed the quickies. Duff and Benaud thrashed a particular slowie until they were overcome by such high living. Graham Cole mowed down the middle order when the closure was applied at 200 plus.

Andrews and McEachran batted superbly to add 72 runs for the second wicket before both suicided in tragic circumstances. Spinners Banwell and Jay tore through the batting with only Alan Lindsay offering any resistance. The innings finished just short of 150.

Generally, Uni. came off second best.

RANDWICK 7-237(dec.) (A. Turner 32, R. Duff 69, J. Benaud 36, J. Hayward 27, B. Wood 24*, G. Cole 2-33) defeated U.N.S.W. 146 (P. McEachran 43, B. Andrews 41, A. Lindsay 25, S. Banwell 6-42).

G.M.G.

U.N.S.W.C.C. v BURWOOD C.C.

(David Phillips 21-9-69)

This game was played at the David Phillips Field a week before the season proper.

University won the toss and decided to bat on a good wicket. After the loss of three quick wickets for 24, Henry Enahoro joined Jim Dormon and these two scored freely, adding 40 odd runs before Jim retired hurt for 22. Vinod Ahluwalia scored 12 before Henry was run out for a very good 39. These three were the only players to reach double figures, our final score being 140 at the end of split time (2½ hours).

Burwood then batted freely, scoring 200. This team included Tommy Mobbs, Graham Cordroy, Barry Cardwall - all big hitters. Uni. bowlers were steady but inexperienced against this type of play.

At the conclusion of the match, all players returned to the Sam Cracknell Pavilion for refreshments.

BURWOOD 200 (Streeter 25, Carr 29, Mobbs 28, Corderoy 25, Turner 4-22) defeated U.N.S.W. 140 (Enahoro 39, Dormon 22) R.T.

For the third year, the internationally famous 'World XI', a little older, took the field against a formidable UNSW XI, on 1st February at the Village Green. The students began poorly when Pratley lost the toss and was sent in by Ron McDonald. However, for the first time in their three encounters the students started well and the first wicket fell at 70 when Taylor was dismissed for 19. McEachran and Smith then added 39 until at last Smith fell victim to Subramenyan for an excellent 67. Hopkins joined McEachran with orders to consolidate and this pair added 92 before Hopkins was bowled by Sony de Carvalho, for 46. Alas, McEachran soon followed, dismissed for 59. At this stage the score was 4-204, and with the addition of 20 more runs and the dismissal of Cole and Heaney the students closed at 6-224. The bowling honours went to Sony de Carvalho and T. Chapman who both took two wickets. As the innings closed the heavens opened and thank goodness an hour's play was lost. When play resumed Everett and Scott-Orr took command and put together a partnership of 102. The partnership was finally broken by McEachran when he bowled Everett. Poor Greig Robinson did not have a happy time bowling - 4 overs for 47. In the last over Greig had 25 runs removed and then he was removed. McEachran dismissed Scott-Orr for a good 53, then Pratley had inspiration - bowl Garland - oh no - however, Geoff, with some well-flighted full tosses and long hops, succeeded in removing Subramenyan and McDonald. Suddenly the 'World XI' reeled to 4-127 - could it be a repeat of Gosford 11 years before? No! Chapman and Sony de Carvalho again failed us and the score reached 176, when Pratley again inspirationally bowled and removed both Chapman and Cooper - another slump, 6-178. Garland struck again and removed Sony and Firth and David de Carvalho - score 9-212. Time was running out. The last over, Garland bowling, the last ball Garland throwing, time was the eventual winner - 'World XI' 9-213. A draw. The aging cavaliers managed to score the 213 in only 143 minutes, whereas the students had taken 197 minutes to reach 224. Garland was the most successful bowler and finished with 5-59, while McEachran and Pratley each collected 2 wickets.

The Club is most grateful to Yorke Marshall and Tom Brooks who both gave up their Sunday to umpire.

U.N.S.W. 6-224(dec.) (Smith 67, McEachran 59, Hopkins 46, S. de Carvalho 2-13, T. Chapman 2-12) drew with WORLD XI 9-213 (J. Everett 54, D. Scott-Orr 53, S. de Carvalho 37, D. de Carvalho 21, G. Garland 5-59, P. McEachran 2-26, J. Pratley 2-32).

U.N.S.W.C.C. v WOLLONGONG UNIVERSITY COLLEGE C.C.

This match was played on the 30-11-69 at the Village Green.

Wollongong won the toss and, seeing that the condition of the U.N.S.W. team had been adversely effected by Saturday activities, decided to bat. The U.N.S.W. men, however, displayed their great recuperative powers and were able to keep the scoring rate down. Wollongong eventually declared, to the great relief of all, at 8 for 159.

Highlights of the innings were Hopkins' four catches behind the wicket, Pratley catching a caught and bowled, and Owen's use of the bean ball with knock-out effect. For Wollongong, Dunn top scored with a determined 48 while Milenko scored an attractive 33. U.N.S.W.'s bowling included Robinson with 3-42 and Pratley with 2-32.

U.N.S.W., with a scoring rate of a little over 5 runs an over, were still short of the target at stumps when the score stood at 6-145. Of this Wills scored a determined and hard-hitting 70 with Healey contributing 20 as did Hopkins. Highlights of the U.N.S.W. innings were the run out of Hopkins, despite his undoubted speed (?) between wickets, and also the running out of Ridley, another of the U.N.S.W. men's better runners (?). Wollongong's bowling included 2-39 by Colquhoun, 1-13 by McQuirk, and Milenko's 1-21.

U.N.S.W. 6-145 (Wills 70, Hopkins 20, Healey 20, Wegner padded up and Robinson still to come, Colquhoun 2-39, McQuirk 1-13, Milenko 1-21) drew with WOLLONGONG 8-159 (dec.) (Dunn 48, Milenko 33, Robinson 3-42, Pratley 2-32).

U.N.S.W.C.C. v DUNTROON MILITARY COLLEGE C.C.

(Village Green 22-3-70)

Led by batsman supreme, Barry Andrews, University mustered a strong side (!) for this now traditional match. Inspired by the performance of our loquacious leader, University amassed 46. Though never comfortable against any of the 8 recognised bowlers in the side, Duntroon reached 8-125, being absolutely clueless against Jim Pratley's fast spin.

There was just sufficient time left for our skipper to show his true mettle. We were not disappointed!

DUNTROON 8-125 (dec.) (Powell 66, Pratley 3-20, Garland 2-30, Andrews 2-13) defeated
U.N.S.W. 46 (Hopkins 14, Price 5-13, Tracey 2-10) and 2-49
(Graham 31*, Price 2-17).

SINGLE WICKET COMPETITION

(Sunday 15th March at David Phillips South)

Despite a late start, a disappointing number of participants, and interruption by rain, the single wicket competition provided an interesting and unusual day's "cricket".

Sensations and incidents were plentiful right from the first round. Robinson, displaying remarkable agility between wickets, was run out by three yards off the first ball he received from Evans. The "batsman", who thought he was safe, was somewhat dismayed by the decision. Then Dietsch, chasing the formidable total of one set by Wegner, succumbed to the attacking field and was caught behind first ball. This decision was disputed by the umpire (!), until fatherly advice from square leg convinced him that the bowler's decision was correct. In all, four first graders fell by the wayside in the first round.

The long fellow appeared again in Round 2 after tossing for the vacant berth, and reached the semi-finals by removing Gibbs before he had scored. Robertson caned Pratley's bowling, then Pratley attacked Robertson, but failed three runs short. Owen fell victim to Wegner without scoring, and Wills disposed of Evans.

In the first semi, Robinson limited Wills to 24, but was unable to pick Wills' quicker ball and retired to the pavilion. A dropped catch by Smith sparked off another incident in the second semi-final. Robertson, who had not scored at this stage, then took a liking to the bowling and hit up 40 off four overs. Wegner could manage only 28.

The stage was set for the final. Wills displayed great all-round potential and required only 13 deliveries to remove Robertson for 17. The tiring Robertson tried valiantly to contain Wills, but without success. The determined Wills ran out winner at the end of the second over.

A formal sup was then held to bring proceedings to a close.

The participants made the day, particularly those who stayed as fieldsmen after suffering an early fate. Thanks are also due to Mr Wills, senior, whose fair, just, and impartial umpiring throughout the competition was appreciated by all the players, particularly the victor.
