PRESIDENT'S REPORT

The 2002/03 season was generally disappointing given our high expectations. Clearly the two grades to excel were seconds and fifths, both making the finals. Well done to Mark Leahy and Matt Hayward who shared the captaincy duties in second grade and thanks to Mark for his contribution to the club off the field. Rob Stark continued his success as captain of fifth grade. He does a great job nurturing the young guys in his team and I have had a number of parents praise him for this. I would also like to congratulate him for passing the huge milestone of 500 grade wickets and for achieving our cricketer of the year award.

I would also like to take this opportunity to congratulate Jim Dixon on attaining 500 grade wickets and Darren Stephen for his 47 first grade wickets this season.

We had two new life members announced at the Annual Dinner this year, being Tom Boyce and Dave Lemon. These awards, given for contributions covering more than twenty years each, are well deserved.

A great deal of time and effort goes into running a club such as ours and the people who carry out this work need to be thanked and know that they are not taken for granted. The responsibility for administration of the club continues to fall on too few. Henry, Disco, Jebby and Matty Sanders continue to do a mountain of work and we are very fortunate to have people of their experience and ability willing to put so much into the club.

Pete Richo shows the dedication and commitment we would like to see from all our players. He travels from Wollongong for every training and game and nothing is too much trouble for him. We thank him very much. Jeff Hargrave, who provides more time and effort than is required in his role at the Uni, Helen Bryson for all her work as the Club Administrator, Darren Sue for his work on the statistics and as manager of the PG's, Richard Dandy, for helping with junior coaching and managing the Green Shield team, Mick Mag, for the Sledge and the rest of the committee for their contributions, much of which happens behind the scenes. Jim Plunkett-Cole has done a magnificent job at cafe DP and Sam Crack for many years and I acknowledge that outstanding contribution. Although he is available to help next season, we have a real challenge to find replacement resources to ensure this important component of the club is maintained at a high standard.

On the playing/coaching side I would first like to praise the efforts of Luke Sutton. He took on a much larger role than was originally contemplated when other planned coaching resources did not eventuate. There have been some fruitful meetings held since the end of the season for the purpose of addressing playing/coaching improvements for the future. Your committee is working in the off season to address this issue.

Our junior club expanded from two to four teams last season, with further expansion planned for this year. We believe that this development program is the best way to ensure the future success for the club. Although we won't see the benefits at senior level for a few years, the combination of recruitment of playing and coaching talent and development will deliver the success we are striving for. I hope that many of our grade players can make themselves available for one afternoon a season to help with coaching the juniors and support the development of the club.

In conclusion, it is clear that the majority of the club is disappointed with our performance this season. The meetings held to address this will only be of benefit if we are all prepared to accept some responsibility for improving our own performance. This is a great club to be involved with and we are the only ones who can make it better.

COACHING REPORT

As you all know this was my first year as Club Coach and I found it a very challenging year. It was a new experience and as a result I definitely learnt as I went along. I am very grateful for the support I received, particularly from Pete Richardson, but also from Henry, Disco, Jebby and other senior players. I'd also like to thank the lads who regularly attended training and for the efforts they put in. I would like to mention Suey and Rich Dandy for their efforts with the PG's and Green Shield respectively. They both had hard jobs and put in a lot of time and effort.

Prior to Christmas I think training had stagnated a little. It was following the pattern it had for the last couple of years and was in need of more quality, direction and variety. I am very grateful to Bish for pointing this out to me. At that time I learnt that we can always improve training and that its vital we get the most we can from those two or three hours.

After Christmas we made changes to training, including centre wicket practices every Thursday. We tried to make nets a little more structured and introduced a white board at training to let people know what we were working on and what was planned for the sessions. More fitness was also introduced into training. In general I think these changes went down well and helped improve the quality of training.

Next year I would like to see more improvements made to training. I would like to see more group discussions so that we can plan better towards our cricket, and I mean this in every grade. We definitely need to dedicate more time towards fielding and if at times this is at the sacrifice of bowling and batting then so be it. I also recognise that more help and attention is needed for the lower grades and I'm hoping this will also be addressed next year.

HOWEVER!!!! Everybody needs to recognise that if we are to improve as players and as a club then it is heavily reliant on YOU!!!! Steve Waugh didn't become the legend he is because a coach held his hand throughout his entire career. He has succeeded due to his enormous commitment and work ethic towards his cricket. So if you want to improve your cricket then you have to put in the hard work required and not expect anyone else to do it for you.

I realise some lads have difficulty with work commitments and I understand that. However make it work!!! Come to practice when you can and get from practice what you can. A quality half an hour practice could make the difference for your performance at the weekend. In fact it is vital that people get what they can from training whatever time they turn up. It is no good turning up at four o'clock and then just chatting for three hours without having done any quality practice. YOUR COMMITMENT IS WHAT IS GOING TO MAKE YOUR IMPROVEMENT!!!!!!

I still think that the club is capable of so much more. I think we have got a lot of talent and we just need to make the most of it. Lets come back next year with more commitment, more hard work and more WINS!!!!!! I hope everyone has a really good winter and I look forward to seeing you all soon.

FIRST GRADE REPORT

At the beginning of the season we sat down and set ourselves the target of reaching the finals. Ultimately we failed in reaching this goal and this has been of great disappointment to everyone concerned with 1st grade this season. At the time I didn't think it was an unrealistic goal for the season and I still think that we have the nucleus of players more than capable of reaching the 1st grade finals. So the challenge ahead of us is to learn from our mistakes this season, raise our work ethic and commitment and, therefore, our performance so that we can fulfil the potential at the club.

Without a doubt the biggest plus point of the season was the performance of our bowlers. Lanky, Heyso and Shaker were outstanding throughout the season and I'd like to congratulate and thank them for their efforts. If, as threatened, Heyso and Shaker 'retire' from 1st grade next season they will be sorely missed. KD also put in another solid season and 'Mr Reliable' didn't fail to live up to his reputation. I believe the success of our bowling unit was down to the lessons learnt from the previous season. We realised that building up pressure on batsman was far more important than trying to produce 'magic' deliveries every ball. This greater patience was illustrated by no one more than Shaker. It's a theme I really want to carry into next season.

In a strangely warped way, another plus point of the season was the level of disappointment I felt amongst the players after a season of under-achievement. Last year I tried to raise the levels of expectations amongst the players and the disappointment showed me that everybody realised that we should have and can do better. We need to continue to work on creating a culture in which we don't settle for mediocrity. Although our results weren't fantastic last year we have possibly raised our expectations as to what we should achieve. I think this is an important step towards better results.

Our batting, in general, was below par. Only three players scored over 600 runs, when 600 runs should be the minimum a 1st grade batsman should get in a season. We had far too many soft dismissals, gifting wickets to the opposition at crucial times. This was down to two things - poor mental application and preparation. Too often I saw lads trying to hit their way out of pressure situations rather than digging in. I also felt that lads were picking up bad habits in the nets by not valuing their wickets enough. I really want to urge everyone that the way we bat in the nets will directly relate to how we bat in the middle.

Although our batting as a unit was disappointing, Dan Christian had an excellent season. He has matured into a quality batsman and the fact that there is more to come from him means great things for him and UNSW. His batting was able to combine powerful stroke making with a sound technical base. I'm sure that a winter at the Academy will mean that the 2003/04 season will be even bigger for Dan.

Our fielding, particularly our catching, was not good enough this season. There is no excuse for this considering fielding can be significantly improved through practice. We just didn't put in the necessary hard work at practice. Next year we have to dedicate more time to fielding practice because poor fielding certainly cost us games this season.

I feel extremely positive about next season. With better preparation and greater commitment we can certainly achieve our target of reaching the 1st grade finals. I'm sure everyone is very aware of how easily we beat Sydney Uni this year and that they went on to win the competition. We need to use them as an inspiration to us. They have made the steps we want to and surprised everyone in the 2002/03 season. We can surprise everyone in the 2003/04 season.

Finally I would like to thank everyone for their efforts this year. We had ups and downs but at the end of the year we had fun and ultimately that's what it's all about. I was given good support by everyone and really enjoyed captaining the side. I must make special mention of Pete Richardson's contribution to the 1st grade side. He does a thankless job but without him I'm not sure we'd be able to run an organised side!!!! He continually helped me with things as captain and made my job a lot easier. Thank you Pete.

I hope everyone has a good winter and lets make the 2003/04 season our season!!!!

LUKE SUTTON.

Langky gets the nick behind in 1sts impressive victory against eventual premiers Sydney University at Sydney University Oval No 1. A Slats (almost) double ton along with Luke's effort with the bat and great bowling from Heyso, Langky Shaker and KD displayed what could have been in Season 2002/03 for 1st Grade.

SECOND GRADE REPORT

Second grade had a successful season, finishing 2nd in the minor premiership on 69 points, 1 point adrift from 1st position, with 11 wins and a tie. It was a disappointing finish, however, when our quest to win the title was cut short by Mosman and Randwick in the finals. These opponents were a shade better than we were in these close encounters.

The turning point in our season, and hopefully careers, was the close loss to eventual premiers St. George. Chasing 400 to win at Hurstville Oval, Hayers struck a magnificent 154 and formed a record-breaking partnership with Eric Zehner (90). We fell short by 23 runs that afternoon, but more importantly the belief we could win the comp was reinforced. From there we won our last 5 matches leading into the finals. However, once there, Mosman handled the conditions in the semi-final better than we did, beating us by 30 runs on a greentop.

For once it was our much maligned batting that was our strength this season. We averaged over 300 runs per innings at 3.66 runs per over. This was largely due to a phenomenal display by Matt Hayward, averaging over 100 during the 8 matches that we were lucky to have him for. Hayers, awarded the 2nd grade captain of the year by the Sydney Cricket Association, ensured we played the game in the right spirit, shared a drink with the opposition after the match and emphasised that we get together for a beer or two back with our club colleagues as often as possible. He led from the front and obviously would have been very handy to have in the finals.

However, some fine wins in Hayers' absence and the close encounters in the finals proved that the team was far from a one-man band, with many great individual performances:

The foundation for our strong batting was set early by Mick Elliott, who smashed two centuries in the first 3 rounds. The first of these was a blistering 116 off 67 balls against Randwick followed by 164 against Sydney Uni, including 100 in the middle session. Tubby was to be seen in 2's on only one other occasion.

Strong contributions from Toddy Hoare and Ian Foster in these early rounds ensured that we started the season well; winning 4 from our first 6 and laying a strong platform for a finals charge.

At this point the team changed complexion enormously - losing Hayers overseas and Toddy to first grade. The return of Rowan Hamman and the brothers Cox returning from injury negated this.

Rowan Hamman was a model of consistency at the top of the order. He batted with responsibility, patience and determination and with more luck could have doubled his aggregate. As it stands Roggie's numbers were impressive and he simply doesn't belong in the second XI. Against Manly he was cheated out of a big score and his innings' against ND's (54), St George (66), Blacktown (90), Gordon (78) and a couple of 20's on a green-top in the semi-final indicates his enormous value to the team. Towards the end his fielding was at its brilliant best with 'screamers' taken against Manly and Gordon.

Brad Cox's return from injury was timely. The Boxer racked up 19 wickets in the last 5 matches of the season taking out the bowler of the year award. Whenever we were desperate for a wicket the Boxer came through with the goods. He also plundered 270 runs in this period, including an 80 and a 40 (batting with a runner) in the finals. Brad was never 100% fit (sometimes far from it) and he admits that he probably never will be, although he has begun a nine-month spell from sport in order to prolong his cricketing career.

Tim Cox's largest contribution was his 5 wickets and 87 not out in the epic tie against Balmain. In many matches he was the unsung hero in that he bowled into the wind every time for tidy figures. None of us will forget the 6 he hit off the second last ball of the day (and his first ball faced) to secure the first innings points against Campbelltown. Once again injury held Coxy back from delivering results consistently.

Mark Bennett made a strong debut in the defeat of his old club Penrith and has all the strokes and potential to cement a spot in the top grades. Benno reached 40 on 4 occasions; all important contributions in the context of the matches, however converting 2 of these into big scores would have made his stats look healthier. A shoulder injury cut short his innings against Balmain at the precise moment the bowling was at his mercy.

Our rookie of the year, Mitch O'Connor, earned this through consistently putting runs and/or wickets on the board. He hit the 500 run milestone with blistering innings' in the finals. Both the Randwick and Mosman captains agreed that Mokka was the best batsman in each finals match. He also cracked his first grade ton against Blacktown, played a few first grade games and snaffled every catch that came his way. Not a bad first season! He picked up some crucial wickets with his leg-spinners, which will no doubt improve greatly when he gets to bowl long spells in matches.

All-rounder Eric Zehner was rewarded with first grade appearances as a result of consistently knocking over top order batsmen with the new rock. Zoomer also struck 270 runs at 26 to go with his 18 wickets to prove invaluable in the number 7 and 8 position. He featured in 3 big partnerships with Hayers and Pablo. Hagar has arguably the strongest arm in the club, collecting a couple of crucial run-outs in close matches.

Ian Foster, another of our promising youngsters, started the season strongly then hit a trot that every batsman experiences from time to time. It's refreshing to see Lager's patient approach to batting and in hindsight we could have used his ability to "bat for the partnership" in the finals. At only 19 years of age, he has many good seasons ahead of him and will be a better batsman from this year's experience alone. With a solid technique and sound temperament, Fozz will more than likely open the batting from now on.

Jaideep Bedi (18 wickets at 30) found his rhythm halfway through the season and from then on we relied heavily upon him. He bowled (by far) the most number of overs for us, culminating in a fine spell in the first final that 9 times out of 10 would have won the match. As luck would have it, Randwick's number 8 batsman pulled off a freakish innings to steal the match. As Bish gains more confidence he will realise that he has the potential be a fine attacking spin bowler, as opposed to relying on ring fields and "pushing them through quicker" to dismiss batsmen.

Pete Carson took every chance that came his way this season. Starting the season late, Pablo smoked his way up the grades and booked a spot in the finals line-up hitting 89 not out against a quality Manly attack at Manly Oval. He followed this with a 60 in the first final, guiding us to a more than competitive total. His assortment of leg-breaks and half trackers broke a few crucial partnerships too. Pablo is a great team man - his positive nature and supportive chat on the field lifts everyone.

It's no secret that this was a frustrating season for Danny Bhandari. He started the season as a specialist batsman but finished as a bowling all-rounder. The Bandit took 19 wickets (including 4 in the first innings of the semi-final) missing out on the bowling award by only 2 runs per wicket. When his role in the team is clearly defined Bandit is a great team man, possesses a tough, winning mental attitude and he's certainly a player you'd prefer to play with than against.

Injury prevented Chris Thomas from stringing together matches all season. This will always affect the rhythm of a quick bowler. Having said that he made important contributions against Randwick, Penrith and Gordon to ensure we took the points on these days. When fully fit Thommo can tear through any batting order and no one shows more ticker on the field or sings the team song louder. The club will get a full season out of him soon and I hope I'm there to witness the damage when it happens.

Olly Higgins and Roger “Cymbals” Smith contributed enormously to our success and are a perfect example of how competition for places in the team brings out the best in players and ultimately the team’s performance. At the start of the season the selectors could barely split the two for the wicket-keeping position. Olly held the spot for the first 6 rounds however Cymbals’ forced his way in with impressive performances in third grade. After taking a couple of rounds to settle in, Cymbals pulled off some spectacular catches to break crucial partnerships against Campbelltown and Manly, turning these matches our way. A constant desire to be the best keeper/batsman that they can be will ultimately determine who reaches 1st grade first.

Whenever Christoph Vonwiller was called upon he delivered his usual honest accurate seamers to frustrate the opposition batsmen into error. His four wickets against Wests and 29 runs in the Balmain tie were important contributions for the team. Beetle’s bowling will be sorely missed if he studies overseas next season.

Other players to have joined us at various stages were Dave Carson, Chelsea Clinton, Alfie Langdon, Plugger Lockett, Neilo and Rich Dandy. Thanks for your contributions.

Finally Id like to thank everyone who supported us during the finals and the lads that provided me with advice, support and encouragement along the way. Although there was no flag, it was still an enjoyable experience.

Rookie of the Year in 2002/03, Mitch O'Connor, sends down one of those leg breaks that show so much potential in the PG game vs Randwick at the VG.

Mitch had a very good debut season getting a couple of games in 1sts and being the stand out 2nd Grade batsman by season's end.

THIRD GRADE REPORT

Following the winter sabbatical, premature retirements, football commitments, and travel adventures, the sifting of available talent began in earnest on the usual August Sunday mornings. Along with the familiar faces there were both notable absentees and fresh new talent. Without a win since being entrenched in the top 4 in December 2001 the new season was a much-anticipated opportunity to freshen up the squad and embark with a new and at the captains bequest "attacking" attitude.

In many ways pre-season training was missing crucial aspects from previous more successful campaigns and this proved to be an Achilles heel to this side and possibly a number of others. In many ways fielding & fitness have not been as vigorously pursued since Livo's reign as club coach and the military training regime of his sidekick "Jumping Jim". Pre-season for grades 3-5 predominantly consisted of work in the nets and little else, time to have a look at some new players and seasoned campaigners to awake from a lazy winter slumber with a role of the underused shoulder or a tentative prop onto the left (or right for those standing on the wrong side) toes. One of the most (if not the most) important components of a successful team appeared lost and forgotten, and for this the captains must take personal responsibility. As we preached our desire to assist in the grooming of the youth toward the allure of success, we failed at the initial hurdle. Eleven players bounding around and enjoying themselves in the field for 5 hours (rather than 2) is a necessity and one born from hard work and stimulating training techniques. Of course every successful team needs desire and teamwork from each and every player, and a leader who is capable of devotion and example, but it also needs a solid base in all aspects of the game. Although at times there were some excellent individual efforts, our fielding was ordinary with great repetition. Mention must be made of exceptional performances at times from Chris Britton, Richard Dandy, and Roger Smith, but unfortunately as a team these were exceptions to the norm. The ability of a fielding team to take that difficult catch or make that save at a pivotal moment is the one that changes matches from close losses (and even big ones) to narrow or comprehensive victories. In a season of only four wins, there are a number of games that stick coherently in the memory banks where that crucial catch from a match-winner on zero, or a misfield letting off the pressure were in all possibility the difference between winning and losing – and that is without contemplating the result of a wayward bowling spell or a string of poor strokes. There is one thing that we must do better both before and during season 2003/2004 - FIELD, CATCH, FIELD, CATCH, & MORE FIELDING & CATCHING. It will make the difference.

Having laboured intensely in the previous paragraph over the inadequacy of our fielding performances, the tone for the season was set in our first game against Randwick/Petersham. Chasing a modest total of 207 we struggled to reach 140 on probably the flattest home track of the season and to say that we were disappointed was an understatement. Our season approach to play "attacking and positive cricket" was thrown out the window during a single session of self-strangulation. As the season progressed we rallied time and again into winning positions – usually the result of our superior talent over our oppositions hard work hard work, only to find ourselves exposed, time and again cold and naked, as an average team of overachievers swindled our six points away. Parramatta, Penrith, Bankstown, ND's, Hawkesbury, Fairfield, Manly, & Gordon all managed to grind out the points when they should have been made our own. Fine victories over St George and Balmain (even after Alf went for 4 sixers' in an over), two of the top four at the time, failed to rally our season, with inconsistent batting and bowling a virus that we couldn't shake off.

Given all of the above, we had a fine group of people playing in 3rd grade last season and some excellent performances. A number of new players as well as seasoned campaigners managed to turn in performances of note. We welcomed Scott "Harbour" "Beau" Bridges to the club this year and his all round performances were excellent. Terribly under bowled at times but one hundred, a couple of big half centuries, and a spell of 5/30 with the ball against Campbelltown (unfortunately our chase of 120 odd was washed out) bode well for future seasons. Earlier scores in 4th and 5th grade added to a fine season. Our young English import Paul "Chelsea" Clinton who played the most games for 3rd grade in the season made valuable contributions with both bat and ball. Ben "Plugger" Lockett and Alfie "Neon" Langdon were our most consistent performers with the ball, although off-field injury robbed the side of much of Alfie's mercurial talent with the ball and "performing" in the field. Greg "Groggles" Dennis toiled for much of the year only to find some lost rhythm in the final matches of the season managing to bowl one of the better bouncers I have seen in quite a while at an accomplished ex first grader. Cameo performances from the talented Pete Carson, Brad Cox, and Mark Bennett were a joy to watch when on song. Our visitor from the midlands Richard Dandy also played some elegant (but far too short) innings. He may now take up "cutting the sambos" of his younger countryman in a bid to find some allusive concentration, although his effortless slips catching was a joy to watch – especially for Plugger. We saw too little of Joost, but his line bowling was often impeccable and above 3rd grade standard. The surprise packet of the year was Pete "Jerry" Maguire, who played the last handful of games to be found unplayable by teams including Manly (premiers), only to be overlooked (when eligible) for the 5th grade semi's. Jerry's control and movement proved a handful for many and will undoubtedly do so in the future. A fine 80 odd when opening against Manly proved Ollie has will and metal when switched on.

Our finest hour was at the Light Brigade for our end-of-season piss-up when many antidotes of missed opportunities and maybe some future successes were bandied about at the same rate as the Carlton Draught's. Although our season was a great disappointment, was felt personally by all who played, the spirit and camaraderie was always apparent. The following players also played 3rd grade and contributed during the season and all of whom I look forward to playing some better cricket with in the future: Mick "Porno" Mag, Christoph "Beetle" Vonwiller, Sandeep Chandra, Chris "Jam'n'Scones" Jamieson, Tristan Thomson, Brett "Charles" Bannerman, Liam Dunthorne, Chris Britton, Jaideep Bedi, Roger Smith, Disco, Dave Carson, David Ross, and fielding assistance from Ollie's brother and Gerb's. We all can and should do better and will hopefully have many future opportunities.

I have reserved special mention for Mike Gregg, who after a fine career played his final grade game for the club in Round 15 against Gordon and celebrated with a wicket in his first over. Gregg - a true gentlemen, a fine bowler and competitor, with a fabulous sense of humour, and always pleasure to play cricket and have a beer with after. Gregg, you will not enjoy me saying it, but on behalf of the club we thank you for what you brought to the club and to us personally, and we will miss having you around. You are always welcome and I'll see you at the pub crawl if not before!

A disappointing season but hopefully hard lessons can finally be learnt.

FOURTH GRADE REPORT

For the second year in a row Fourth Grade missed out on the finals at the eleventh hour, this time due to the resistance of some unknown UTS Balmain No. 11, who piloted them through to the semis while we pondered our fate and readied ourselves for the Harbour Cruise. Once again we had spent the latter part of the season paying for our earlier sins, and had very nearly pulled off the near impossible via some must-win victories against finals contenders, an outright and the odd bit of help from the weather.

For a change the first half of the season was severely disrupted by player unavailability throughout the club and with 38 players going through the team in the summer we found it difficult to find some rhythm. Significantly, when we and two other sides in the club were in the finals race and some artificial team stability was implemented (sorry AJ), some genuine playing momentum and team spirit developed. I don't know what the answer to this is for the lower grades – perhaps we just accept that it is the nature of the beast and do our best. I do know that the more stable situation under which we played the last four games was more enjoyable and brought the best out in our cricket.

Of the fifteen games we played we could point at three in particular, where we failed to convert winning positions, as the reasons for missing out on “the six” by two points. The Balmain game, a loss by one run chasing 216 in an “agreed” one dayer after being 0-100 after 27 overs, was always going to haunt us, and in both the St George and Fairfield games we butchered good positions by dropping vital catches and failing to adapt to “foreign” batting conditions.

The following blokes had at least five games in the 4ths:

David Jebb – a lot of starts but no hundreds. Same as last season.

It seems that Fourth Grade is the level that Jim Dixon has landed in now that he can't put the time into practice that he used to, and we are lucky for that. Having Disco in the side will always make things easier for the team and especially the skipper, whether it is with some astute field placement advice, help with the various off field tasks or beer and well chosen words in the dressing room – not to mention the 300 runs at 30-odd and 20-odd wickets at 16. In reality the captaincy functioned more like a co-operative between Disco and myself this season and I think it worked well. Thanks Disc.

When looking at Chris Jameson's numbers you might say that he was unlucky not to play more 4ths this season and certainly he was in good form when he had a couple of games off before Christmas. However the break and the couple of low scores that followed, coupled with some pressure from below, conspired against him and showed how easily your season can change. As always, Jamo seemed to play better against the better quality opposition.

Sandeep Chandra returned from overseas apparently without missing a cricketing beat and immediately banged off a huge score in 5ths. In a quick visit to 3rds and five subsequent games in 4ths, he showed that he has the technique and temperament to move further up the grades. Hopefully he will be able to play a full season next summer, when his batting should continue to develop and his legspin should be poised to take up the opportunities currently available in the club for this noble art.

Ex-keeper Chris Britton joined the side at the halfway point of the season and took a couple of games to settle in but before long showed that he has the potential to be a quality higher grade player. His batting is enhanced by a strong back foot technique and his consistently excellent fielding gave us a lift that we sorely needed in that particular discipline. At the time of writing, work issues and difficulty in getting to practice could see Britto sit next season out, which in a cricket sense would be a real pity as I'm sure his batting is on the verge, perhaps one or two long innings away, of really kicking on.

David Bell had another solid year, which was somewhat disrupted by some games off. This tended to juggle his position in the batting order when perhaps he is most effective at No. 4. Bell is a thinking batsman who is always working on a plan in the middle and gives his wicket away dearly – we could do with a lot more of these!

Michael Pigg started the season well before getting into a trot where unfortunate situations and marginal luck seemed to dog him (on and off the field!). A spell in 5ths saw some runs and confidence return for him but back in 4ths the earlier pattern repeated itself towards the end of the season. Hopefully some more hard work, a bit of luck or at least no bad luck, and some time in the middle will make the difference next season.

Joost Leemhuis found 4th Grade wickets a bit hard to come by early on, probably a consequence of the “first class line” he bowled and the tendency for 4th Graders to try to bat like Matthew Hayden instead of playing straight. Towards the end of the season he succumbed to bowling fuller and on the pegs with good results – his spell against ultimate finalists Manly was high quality and showed that really he was a cut above 4ths. His batting looked like it could produce anything early in the season – “consolidation is not my repertoire” - but never quite lived up to its promised carnage. Joost was a lion-hearted trier and a fine team man and will be missed now that he has returned to Holland.

Nigel Dornan had another good season with both bat and ball. His bowling, be it medium pace, usually into the breeze, or his new string left arm orthodox, was always a great option on the scores of both quality and variety. The highlight was his 6/64 against competition leaders St George, which should have won us the game – and even then his batting nearly did.

Brett Bannerman returned to 4ths from injury and although still not 100%, he became an important part of our attack in the crucial end of season games. Hopefully that blob of scar tissue at the top of his hammy will head permanently south this winter and see him firing in the higher grades next summer.

The last in a long line of offies this season, Mick Mag was a consistent performer and a valuable participant in our push into finals contention. Happy to play the cards dealt to him, be it hopping between grades, shifts in the batting order or limited opportunities on seaming wickets, Mick was again the ideal team player. He experienced the horrors with his batting until he opened up a new world and achieved immediate results by giving his spectacles a roost and discovering how clearly that Kookaburra can be seen if you have the right gear.

David Little had “a season of three halves”. He was keeping as well as anyone in the early part but suffered a bit with the various selection permutations that came with the erratic bunch of nutters with gloves on inhabiting the club at that time. Then, for the middle part, house-moving considerations took a chunk and a bit of form out of his season, prior to his return for the run to the finals. He made some important contributions with the bat, despite giving us the odd heart flutter with his creed that the ball was there to be hit no matter what the circumstances.

Nick Janzen’s appearances were limited by his studies sending him to Canberra, but when he was around he proved that all facets of his game had moved up a level on the previous season. His bowling featured more control while retaining all of its variations and the pressure he was able to put on various middle orders resulted in some excellent numbers. In addition, through hard work outside of club practice, his batting also progressed from being genuine No. 11 stuff to something deserving promotion up the order. Sadly I wasn’t able to oblige him this time around due to absolutely everyone in the side being able to bat – not that I was ever short of encouragement from him to do so!

Lachlan Taylor was another who had a foot in two grades and found himself on the receiving end of a lot of selection phone calls. He always acquitted himself well in 4ths, as his numbers reflect, despite claiming some sort of elder statesman's right to start each spell off with a few "looseners". Has perhaps started replacing a bit of his explosiveness with guile but also bowled some quick overs when the situation demanded it.

Of the many other players who had less than five games in the 4ths, there were two standouts of quite different styles. Firstly Rob Stark, who made match winning and statistically astonishing contributions in both of the games he played and took the drop without complaint both times when the club's best interests demanded it. And secondly the slightly less boisterous Alex Braid, whose virtually faultless keeping and destructive and mature batting gave us a brief glimpse of a real player of the future.

In closing, thanks to all of the guys who played 4ths this year. The spirit was always great and for the most part we played some very good cricket. To the guys who were in and out of the side, don't despair – we have all had a season like that and it's just a matter of taking that opportunity with one big performance (say, a century or a five for) to stop selectors constantly moving you up and down.

DAVID JEBB

Jebby and Helen catching some more relaxing moments post season 2002/03. The Jebbryson family certainly put in some big ones for the Club last year – something I guess we have just come to expect.

Chris Britton was looking like a great wicket keeping find prior to season 2002/03 – until we learned he didn't like it nor want to do it. He immediately made an impression without the gloves and was a comfortable winner of the Club's fielding award this year. The trophy being awarded to him by Henry.

FIFTH GRADE REPORT

Another year passes and once again 5th grade came very close to capturing it's second premiership in the Club's history. It was a very successful season with the team losing it's first three games (albeit one game by one run and another by five balls in a one dayer) then going through undefeated in it's next eleven games (10 wins and a washout where the opposition were 5 – 28 chasing 250) and then only to capitulate by losing the last round game and the two semi finals. It was a shame to finish on such a disappointing note as the talent was definitely there for us to capture the title. Anyway, it's one way of extending Jungle's and my careers for at least another season.

The bowling was undoubtedly our strength this year and the stats bear testament to this fact. The bowlers were as follows:

David Ross – only played a handful of games in 5's but took 9 wickets at 12.44. Will develop into a very decent left arm orthodox and can bat as well.

Anthony Sidebottom – Frontbum was a sensational find this year. Took 33 wickets at 13.97 and bowled with pace and aggression. Has one of the best short balls I have ever seen in lower grade cricket. If he gets back from Korea in one piece then he'll be playing a lot higher than 5's. Typical bowler though who never stopped raving about his batting which wasn't exactly shabby.

James George Robson – Jungle was very solid with his 22 at 15.45. Took a rare 5 for this season but was solid gold again with his theories. Made fine leg his own this year with a very interesting practice of fielding the ball on the boundary, running in 30 metres before throwing and then claiming he just threw in 60 metres. Only Jungle could get away with such a very average claim.

Nigel Dornan – the Dornat took 14 at 17.29 in his usual no nonsense manner. Usually could not be hit off the square, beat the bat numerous times an over but always just shrugged the shoulders and got on with it (Lachy to take note). Uttered his first sledge to a batsman in the semi against Sydeny Uni for 10 years (I won't repeat the sledge merely because it wasn't very good). Off to Ireland and hopefully back before next season.

Lachlan Robert Taylor – a very good season for the Fruitcake. Two five wicket spells this year (one in the semi against SU) and bowled a more consistent line and length which is evident in that he only went for 2.5 runs an over and that he bowled only 31 no balls (which for Lachlan is like saying a batsman scored 1000 runs in a season). I have a gut feeling that Lachy is getting better with old age and if he shortens his run up even more then his longevity in the game will be increased.

I chipped in with 43 at 14.74 which means that our main bowlers all had an average under 20 with the ball. It is little wonder we dominated for most of the comp.

Unfortunately our batting and fielding probably let us down in the end. I have no doubt in my mind that we would have won the major semi against SU if we had taken our chance (all nine of them). But in saying that Pete Mitchell did take 25 catches and 6 stumpings for the year and overall our ground fielding, led by Richard "Freak" Fleming was quite outstanding. Our principle run scorers were:

Jungle: 507 at 39 with 1 x 100 & 2 x 50's led the way. His batting was solid for most of the season but his running between wickets was the worst since Wood & Darling made bad running an art form. It could have been old age, poor eyesight or just plain senility but it was quite humorous considering it was also tragic at the same time. A few of his team mates should note his patient approach to batting and they will start to occupy the crease a lot longer.

Simon Gerber: Gerb's comeback this year saw 436 runs scored at 31.14 with 3 x 50's. Very good figures but he will be the first to acknowledge that it should have been a lot more. His shot selection at times left a lot to be desired but that is the nature of the beast and at times when he got away with it, well it was just great to watch. Took 5 catches this year but should have taken 30 – unbelievable. Will be missed this year unless he's prepared to travel from Wagga each weekend.

Pete Mitchell – Mav finally cracked it with 422 at 26.38 but as with Gerbs should have scored more runs. Held the innings together on several occasions this year and looked very solid every time he went out to bat. Had a 100% captaincy record when I was not available and it is rumoured will challenge for the leadership role this year. Had a very good year when his keeping, batting and captaincy are all put together.

Craig Maxwell – Maxy was our genuine all rounder boasting 261 at 26.10 and 12 wickets at 30. Trained very hard throughout the year and reaped the benefits. A whole hearted performer who should go up a gear next year because he has the ability to dominate a game. Loved listening to Jungle's stories each week and this alone should keep him at the Club for quite a while.

It has been a difficult year for me on a personal note with the passing of my Dad in November. Dad meant the world to me and he was my hero. He was the one who taught me to play cricket and he was the one who instilled upon me the will to win and the importance of your team. I loved him with a passion and his death shattered me and I will never get over the fact that I can no longer share my cricketing achievements with him. But I am fortunate to be involved in such an unbelievable cricket club and as such the pain was alleviated to an extent. To see Livo and Pablo at Dad's funeral was great and then to turn up to cricket the day after Dad's funeral and see the UNSW teams with black arm bands on just blew me away. I can't thank you all enough for being there for me when I needed you most. The phone calls and e mails, some from the USA, made me realise that the UNSWCC might not be the champion Club on the field but you are all champions in my eyes.

ROBERT STARK

Another reasonably successful year for Starky captaining 5ths to the semis – not to mention him becoming the first Clubman to break the 500 Grade wicket mark.

SIXTH GRADE REPORT

Season 2002/2003 dawned with the promise of a successful and rewarding summer for 6th grade. The previous season had seen 6th grade make the semi-finals only to suffer a narrow three run loss to Sydney University. With the majority of that semi-final team backing up for another season, there was a nucleus of a very good team forming for the coming season. However, planning ahead can be a dangerous proposition, especially in 6th grade. Hopes for a relatively stable team dissipated early in the season with a raft of team changes for each game. This became a common theme for the remainder of the season and was probably a major contributing factor to the team's inconsistent form.

It is important however to look at the positive side of this predicament. The purpose of the 6th grade side is to give guys experience playing a high standard of cricket and to prepare them for the rigours of playing in the higher grades. From that perspective, it was a pleasure to see 6th grade regulars from the previous summer Jim Maroulis, Dave Little and Peter Maguire get an opportunity in the higher grades early in the season.

Of course, with players going up the grades opportunities arise for new players and 6th grade welcomed a number of new faces to the club. Imran Masood (Dublin, Ireland), Mitchell Smith (Batemans Bay), Mark Appleton (Brisbane) and Iain Beach all became contributors to 6th grade throughout the season.

Looking back through the season, the one word that keeps springing to mind is inconsistency. We would play well and get a couple of wins, only to follow-up with a few losses, then find our form again and win a couple more. That being said, the season post-Christmas saw no points come our way as the losses (some close, some not so close) became an irritating theme.

Our batting, as always, was our main stumbling block to a successful season. At times a batting was a joy to watch as early season run chases versus Burwood, North Sydney and Easts were achieved with clinical precision. At other times, especially in the second half of the season, our batting was extremely disappointing with the tail often called upon to add some respectability to the score line. The only late season highlight was our batting in the penultimate game of the season versus eventual champions Maccabi. Chasing a slightly imposing 497, all the players knuckled down to bat through the second day and achieved an impressive total of 327. Despite losing the game, we demonstrated to ourselves that we are a team capable of posting big scores.

Bowling overall continued to be the strength of the side. Aside from two big scores against us by Maccabi (who belted everyone else as well), opposing teams rarely got on top our bowlers. However, our bowling, more so than our batting, suffered from regular team changes. Every match seemed to bring with it a new pair of opening bowlers as players shuffled continuously throughout the grades. Though this is unavoidable it prevented a cohesive bowling unit to develop in the team.

Contributors to the 6th grade season (in rough batting order):

Opening the batting was Irish import Imran Masood, who fast became an integral and popular member of the team. His strokeplay against the quicks, like his motivating speeches in the dressing room, often bordered on arrogance and over-confidence. However, he played a number of critical innings including a superb 80 not out versus Easts. A susceptibility against spin bowling was an obvious weakness (hence his preference to open the batting) and an area he will need to work on if he seeks further cricket opportunities in Australia.

Our other regular opener was the Big O, Ian Ornelas. Mid-season disruptions to his cricket because of study and work commitments meant he did not quite reach the form of the previous season. His 74 versus Easts was the main highlight of the season. As always, his concentration while out in the middle and the high price he placed on his wicket was an example to the rest of the team.

Newcomer Arvind "Gunner" Gunasakaran made the most of his opportunity. Another product of Sydney Boys High, Gunner was a Friday night replacement for the first game of the season and proceeded to produce a near flawless, match-winning 84. Floating between 5's and 6's for most of the season, he always put in 100 per cent with the bat and in the field, while his medium pace bowling was severely under-rated. A great temperament should see him achieve regular higher grade honours in the future.

Where do I start with David Dunne? Never has there been a 6th grader with such sound batting technique and range of shots. On ability alone, Dave would be playing in a much higher grade. Cricket however, requires more than ability and what goes on in Dave's head while he is out in the middle one can only imagine. Despite repeated discussions throughout the season about valuing your wicket and appropriate shot selection, he would invariably get a start and then get out with a rash shot. Once he learns this lesson there is no limitation to what he can achieve in cricket.

Jim Maroulis started the season in 5's and made it to 4's before work commitments forced a mid-season break from the game. Despite returning in 6's, Jim displayed a great enthusiasm for the game and consistency with the bat. His wicket-keeping in the last couple of games of the season was a revelation and a skill that may be utilised in seasons to come.

Despite limited opportunities Mark Appleton marked himself as a player to watch in coming seasons. Mark knows how to enjoy himself both on and off the field and has the potential to develop into a solid all-rounder. A real team player, he made a significant contribution to team spirit whenever he played.

Getting his first taste of senior cricket was 14-year-old Iain Beach. Much too his credit, Ian took to the considerable challenge with enthusiasm and confidence. Although runs were hardly plentiful his batting was solid, with his technique withstanding the inevitable barrage he received from bowlers keen to assert their authority. His off-spin bowling also has potential although he will need to develop the ability to entice batsmen into false shots if he wants to snare more wickets.

Mitchell Smith began the season full of promise with a good haul of early wickets. However, come the end of session and exams out of the way, Mitchell beat a hasty retreat back to Batemans Bay to enjoy the South Coast lifestyle for the summer. His commitment to a full season will be required if he is to fulfil his potential as a cricketer in Sydney.

Upon recognising that his batting technique was resembling his golf swing, the captain quickly dropped himself down the order for some remedial work. Fortunately he rediscovered his outswinger (thought lost ten years ago) and made a contribution with the ball, demonstrating that pace is not essential and that a consistence line and length will produce wickets.

A special mention must go to the retiring Michael Gregg. His decision to permanently hang up his cricket spikes is a sad day for UNSWCC. The ultimate team player, Gregg is a fine example of how to approach your cricket. Whenever he had the ball in his hand he was a picture of concentration as he sought to discover and exploit any chink in the batsman's technique or character. His analytical approach to his bowling combined with a ruthless competitive instinct ensured he was always a danger to batsmen. The worst mistake any batsman could make was too hit Gregg for a couple of boundaries and get a bit arrogant. Gregg would invariably have the last laugh. It has been a tremendous experience playing cricket with Gregg and I wish him all the best for his post-cricket endeavours.

Mark "Mustard" Lucas had limited opportunities this season. The inability to keep a consistent line and length troubled him, forcing him to consider a change to bowling left-arm wrist spinners. While this may be a viable addition to his arsenal, Mustard at times demonstrated his traditional ability with a 5 wicket haul versus South Sydney eventually earning him a run in the PG's side.

As is usual in any 6th grade season there was the usual array of players who made guest appearances and played a couple of games. A number of these provided significant contributions. An unbroken 173 run partnership by Chris "Weapon" Anderson and Graeme Spenceley lead us to a great victory over Burwood. Robbie Dooley's unbeaten 86 versus Maccabi highlighted his potential with the bat in addition to his already considerable ability with the ball. Early in the season Richard Fleming displayed the maturity to bat for long periods and was rewarded with a permanent spot in 5th grade. Mayur Kulkarni and Peter Maguire made important contributions with bat and ball during brief breaks from higher grade duties while Rahul Mukharjee bowled some quality spells when given the opportunity.

Finally, I would like to thank all the guys who played 6th grade for making this a thoroughly enjoyable and entertaining season. It was a pleasure to play with a great bunch of guys who not only enjoy their cricket but are also striving to develop their games and play to their potential. Thanks also to Disco and the rest of the selection committee for their invaluable advice, and Darren Sue for his outstanding statistical work.

See you all next season.

POIDEVIN GRAY SHIELD REPORT

The 2002/2003 Poidevin-Gray season was one of revitalizing the interest and enthusiasm of our under 21 players, as well as focusing on the improvement of one day cricket skills. This initiative was designed to improve performances, and therefore deliver an increased contribution to the greater good of the club. In part this goal was achieved, as the side's competitiveness, outlook, morale and team spirit was in another world compared to previous seasons. There were many encouraging individual performances, but in terms of playing consistently and turning in good team performances, we really only scratched the surface of how you would expect such a talented group of players to perform.

To be fair, the momentum of the season started poorly due to two close losses, but there were other factors that contributed to the overall outcome of the games. Although having many talented players we toiled to produce solid all-round performances in all facets of the game on the same day. Several games saw us bat very well but bowl poorly, or visa versa. The varying commitment and availability of senior players greatly affected our performance. This, whilst giving some of our younger players the opportunity to prove themselves at a higher level, left us extremely vulnerable. Fielding is currently a concerning issue in the club, and PG's were not excluded from this. On the whole our fielding was satisfactory, but on occasions our efforts were below par, particularly in the catching department. One last factor that effected our overall performance was a difficulty to, from a commanding position, go on and complete the task at hand, particularly against oppositions to which we were evenly matched.

The first two games versus North Sydney and East's saw us register two very close losses, by 24 runs and 1 run respectively. Both games were similar in format in that our batsmen did a great job chasing totals to almost get us home, but our bowlers struggled. Dan Christian blasted a very entertaining 102 (off only 81 balls) versus East's.

Sutherland are usually a worthy adversary, and certainly lived up to this reputation, fielding a side that comprised mainly of 1st and 2nd graders. Our bowlers at last recovered from their wides and no balls blues suffered in previous games, our fielding and catching was reasonably tight, and we restricted them to a very respectable 241 in good conditions. The unavailability of some of our more senior batsmen however, left a hole that made us vulnerable against Sutherland's quality attack. After a quick start by openers Dan and Paul, Sutherland ripped through our inexperienced middle and lower order, leaving us well short of their total.

The next game was against another quality opponent, St.George. It was the only taste of euphoria we were to experience for the season, due to an outstanding team effort. On the dime sized Hurstville Oval the St.George batsmen scored at a rate of knots, but our bowlers fought back (with the assistance of some clever attacking captaincy by Dan Christian) and wickets fell regularly. The whirlwind was soon depleted when St. George were bowled out for 259 (off only 41.2 overs!!), to which all of our bowlers contributed.

Our run chase could not have got off to a worse start, with the comprehensive cremation of Oliver Higgins on the 2nd ball of the innings. But apart from that it was a classy performance, which saw us win by 1 wicket in the last over of the innings.

Randwick-Petersham was our next opponent, and was perhaps our most disappointing interlude. We were in very commanding positions throughout the game, but our efforts were overshadowed by lapses in concentration. Unsavory batting conditions aside, we bowled very well, but lacked discipline in the later part of their innings (conceding 50 runs off the last 10 overs).

Although the required target was a modest one (203), the deteriorating conditions made the run chase a difficult task.

Openers Paul and Oliver got us off to a fantastic start (61 runs off 20 overs), but due to some good tight bowling by Rand-Pets, and to what I could only describe as a momentary lapse of reasoning by our batsman, we again fell short of the required total.

The PG's season ended with a loss versus Hawkesbury. Batting first we made a solid score of 231, which was mainly based around another aggressive Dan Christian century. Hawkes were in a compromising position at 3/61 after 15 overs but lackluster fielding and bowling allowed Hawkes to reach our total within 40 overs.

Player profiles, in rough batting order:

Paul Clinton (Chelsea): Without making any really big scores, was a solid, consistent batsman who worked very hard on his game. His effort versus Sutherland was an illustration of this determination. As a bowler he showed potential but lacked consistency, however, bowled a great spell versus Rand-Pets. A good team player, and one of the sides best fieldsmen, he will defiantly go home to the motherland a better cricketer.

Oliver Higgins (Olie): Always a controversial figure. Despite having a season of personal setbacks, was keen to play no matter where he batted, fielded (or bowled?). When given the opportunity, did an exemplary job with the gloves (his leg side stumping versus North Sydney was incredible) otherwise was living proof that wicket keepers can field. Grim determination was the forefront of his batting, may benefit with some slight adjustments to his sound technique. Was the life of the dressingroom (and an absolute tyrant of a Finesmaster), and his pre-match banter with Chelsea kept us thoroughly entertained. (Which went something like: "F#%k You, I'm going to run you out!" to which Chelsea would reply "No F#%k you, I'm going to run you out!")

Dan Christian: One of the best cricketers running around in the PG competition. I could go on and on about this guys contribution's this season but, suffice to say, whether batting, bowling or captaining his aggressive attitude leaves presence on those around him. Had an absolute blinder of a PG's season (his statistics speak for themselves), and the sides improved performance were in no small part due to his presence.

Ian Foster (Fossy): A very talented composed character. Started the PG's season off displaying his undoubted natural ability with a controlled 57 vs. North Sydney but appeared to have problems with his concentration as the season progressed. His best is yet to come.

Mitch O'Connor (Mocca): An exceptionally gifted stroke maker and useful leg spin bowler, probably under achieved in his first season of PG's. Made an impressive debut in Rd 1 contributing with the ball at a crucial time of the game and scoring 30 odd, but for the balance of the season struggled to find touch, and the radar was slightly off with the ball. A great fieldsmen, and should be a prominent figure in future PG's seasons.

Chris Britton (Britto): Britto's technique improved during the season, and is one of the best fieldsmen in the club. Would benefit from playing a whole PG's season.

Rich Fleming (Flemo): Probably one of the finds for the season. Has a very good temperament, and batted exceptionally well in his first season of PG's. His 55 versus St. George was one of maturity given the tight situation. A solid fieldsmen, and one of the gutsiest players in the team, turning up to a game with orange hair, knowing only too well that he would be sledged mercilessly by team mates and opposition alike.

Roger Smith (Dodgy): Throughout the clubs history, there has been a proud tradition of eccentric wicket keepers, and Dodgy is no exception. Put in a solid season with the gloves, (particularly against Sutherland) worked hard to make the most of his opportunities with the bat.

Mayur Kulkarni (Chilli): Although Chilli started the season with no real defined role in the team he soon displayed his talents bowling off spin, and finished the season second in the averages. Could always be relied upon as a partnership breaker, and also bowled some tight spells as the situation required. Bowled very well in tandem with Mocca in the North Sydney game and his 3/40 versus Rand-Pets was a just reward for some hard work put in during the season. Usually contributed with the bat down the order, featuring well in the St.George game in a match winning 7th wicket partnership. Worked hard during the season to improve his fielding.

Andrew Langdon (Alfie): Another controversial character. Despite Alfies undoubted talents, his mind was not quite on the job this season. Wherever his mind was though, it did require him to call me on several occasions at home after 1:00 am on a Sunday morning speaking a language only aliens could decipher. As always however, Alfie could be relied upon for a laugh, particularly when sharing his various theories on life (although I'm sure he would acknowledge that his theory on "beating the hangover" is flawed)

Robbie Dooley: Had a slow start to the season, but his bowling improved at an expedient rate. Bowled with hostility at times, his spell against St.George was testament to this. Will benefit greatly with the experience gained from his first full PG's season.

Mark Retter (Retts): Was plagued with injury throughout the season and struggled to reach the form we know he is capable of. Bowled well, but without luck, in the Randwick-Petersham game.

Mark Lucas (Mustard): Only had a limited opportunity, but bowled exceptionally well in the Rand-Pets game and returned the figures of 1/23 off 10. Proved to many people (no one more important than himself) that he can perform at a higher level.

Tristain Thompson & Dave Kachor should both have been prominent members of the PG's side this season, but opted to study in the freezing cold North American winter. Rahul Mukherjee came, played one game, bowled well, and then disappeared into the wilderness for the rest of the season. Liam Dunthorne showed promise as a middle order batsman and a useful fieldsman, but missed further opportunities due to unavailability. Dave Ross is worthy of mention for hitting the winning runs in our only victory for the season (driving in the air on the up) and holding two good outfield catches. Mention should go to Arvind Gunasekaran, Adam Beach, Alex Braid and Mitch Smith who also contributed at various times of the season.

My personal thanks go to the following:

All members of the selection committee (particularly Jim Dixon & David Jebb) for their invaluable feedback, advice and assistance.

Peter Mitchell and David Carson who assisted with the managerial duties in my absence during the Sutherland game.

The behind the scenes people – Helen Bryson & Matt Sanders. Without them the club would not function.

Skippers Dan Christian and Mitch O'Connor

Mark Lucas for giving up his time and assisting with the scorer's duties.

Luke Sutton & Geoff Lawson who assisted so brilliantly by conducting video analyses of various players during the course of the season. Luke also helped tremendously by conducting talks on one-day cricket strategy.

The regular transient spectators and supporters – Jebby, Disco, Henry and Sutts.

And last but not least Jim Plunkett-Cole who was always more than happy to back up on a Sunday, and run Cafe VG. Jim announced his intention to retire from his duties managing Cafe VG at the end of the season. His contribution to the club over the years has been immeasurable, and will be sadly missed. Good Luck Jim.

The experience gained for players this year (particularly the younger players) should stand them in greater stead for the future, as well as add depth to sides in seasons to come. We as a club can only hope that this season PG's players, as well as future generations, truly appreciate the experience that can be gained by playing in such a privileged competition. Every game should be played as if it was the last, as every opportunity taken will not only assist the endeavors of our great club, but, could also mean the realization of a dream for he that holds it.

A.W.GREEN SHIELD REPORT

University of NSW will perform very well in this competition next year, and will hopefully win it the following year. That is our plan, now we must start to execute it. As you can see I have started with a positive aim of winning this competition in two years time.

Green Shield is serious cricket and players must be honest about their own and their team's performance. At least the players now know how difficult it is to be successful in major competitions, such as the Green Shield. It was the mistake of no-one in particular, but you must admit we were often in total disarray. Richard Dandy did an outstanding job in extremely difficult circumstances. Not only did Richard have a team of limited ability but it was also a very young team of limited experience.

It does not matter if you get beaten, providing you learn from that beating. Some of the boys who played in the Green Shield last year may make the team again and it will be interesting to see if they learnt from the experiences last year. The important ingredients needed for success in cricket were often not on display in this team. Basics such as bowlers ensuring that all their fieldsman are where they want them and in the right position must occur. Many times this season opposition batsman were thrashing our bowlers, and our bowlers continued to bowl ball after ball without changing their field. It is now time for every bowler to realise what field he needs for what situation and in consultation with his captain ensure they are in the exact spot where they are needed. Richard Dandy was so keen for you to get this right that he once took cones out at lunchtime to show you where fieldsman should be placed.

Another facet of the game and the one which is most important, is rotating the strike. Unless you can "skittle" a team, and we couldn't, it is important when bowling, to build up pressure by bowling tightly and prevent them from rotating the strike. Likewise, unless you are M Slater or R Ponting and can hit numerous fours, the way to succeed when batting is rotating the strike and plenty of singles.

Hopefully, features such as these will dominate our discussion over the next two seasons. When we win this competition in two years time we will look back in amazement and say what happened in 2003. The season coming up will have a hard working selection and coaching panel who will put this team on the right direction. It is now up to the boys to win it for the University in 2005. None of this rugby league hooah where coaches say they'd like to make the final 8. So what.

When we win this competition we can have a full individual analysis of every boy and their strengths. It is pointless going through each individual now, let's wait until we show every one in Sydney how good we really are. Once again it is important to stress the wonderful, enthusiastic job done by Richard Dandy. Many thanks must also go to the captain Andrew Bell and his father for their efforts during the season.

Thank you also to the parents who supported the team through this very tough time. I am sure the parents will get just as much satisfaction as the boys if success comes over the next two seasons. Like 4th and 5th grade do, it is time for this team to enter the field assuming they are going to win and play accordingly. Let the journey begin to win this crown in 2005.

LADIES' TEAM REPORT

Unfortunately no Ladies Report/ Statistics was available at the time this Report needed to go to Print.

CAREER STATISTICS

The career statistics provided are limited to the details of those players who have achieved designated milestones in runs, wickets or dismissals.

At this stage in our Club's relatively short existence (particularly at a Grade level) these milestones have been set at the below indicated levels. For more comprehensive career statistics please refer to the 1998/99 Annual Report, or for the complete details of every club representative, please refer to the Club's database which is (hopefully by now) contained on the UNSWCC Website.

It should be noted that "milestone" thresholds have not been detailed for the 1st Grade one-day statistics or the Womens' career statistics (please also note that the Women's statistics have not been updated from last year due to the unavailability of their statistics for inclusion at the time this Report needed to go to print). This is due to the relatively brief existence of these respective competitions.

The UNSWCC would like to again recognise the enormous amount of work and effort put in by Greg Livingstone in compiling and maintaining the career statistics database after many years of neglect by the Club in maintaining these records. Also, thanks to Darren Sue, our "Stats Nazi" (as Starky likes to call him). The comprehensive stats throughout this report are entirely his efforts and he is teaming with Livo on the Career Statistics as well. He is performing an invaluable job that the entire Club (past and present) can and will benefit from (certainly has made the Annual Report Editor's job much easier). Part of the reason he received the Clubman of the Year Award this year.

WOMEN'S CAREER STATISTICS

Please refer to the 2001/02 Annual Report for the details of the leading Women's career statistics. These have not been able to be updated for publication in this year's Report due to difficulties in finalising statistics for the Women's side for season 2002/03.

CLUB RECORDS

Team and partnership records apply to the years in the Sydney Grade Competition - from and including the season 1973-74. For records prior to the 1972-73 season refer to the 1972-73 Annual Report Municipal and Shires Competition. Performances in teams for which not all club members are eligible (Poidevin-Gray and Intervarsity) are not included - details can be obtained in past annual reports. Records for the Women's teams are still being collated. A minimum of 250 runs or 15 wickets is required to qualify for batting or bowling records. Only the initial record maker is identified for individuals and partnerships in the event of tied records.
